In 2009 the EMS Section will begin using the Wi.Train.Org website for registrations and provision of some on-line education. You will be required to set up an account when you first register with the system. Please look through the course offerings and you will find many educational opportunities that are provided for other professions that are relevant to EMS. We hope this will allow for future opportunities to provide EMS education. The "Weapons of Mass Destruction" training is already available on this site and we hope to add the medical directors' course in the near future. We appreciate your patience and are confident this website will become a valuable tool for our profession.
